World Savers on the Move

Our Commitment to the Planet

The planet is burning! Apocalyptic reports of the end of the world are coming from everywhere.

Yet many people see themselves as world savers and want to contribute to saving the world, but what should this contribution look like to be effective? The sustainability goals define 5 core areas in which action is possible. These are called the 5 Ps (People, Planet, Prosperity, Peace, and Partnership) and look for Well-being of People, Protection of the Earth, Sustainable Prosperity and Progress, Peace, and Stronger Cooperation or Collaboration between countries.

We want to explore these and see how these areas are interconnected and how, through interaction among them, we can make the world a little better.

We look forward to your participation!
