Development and Project Management

23rd – 25th September 2022

STUBE Bayern
das Studienbegleitprogramm für
Studierende aus Afrika, Asien und Lateinamerika

Development and Project Management

Project management is a helpful tool to achieve goals effectively. In the context of strategies to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), the 17 goals for sustainable development of the UN, it plays a major role.

In this seminar we will deal with methods of project management. In theoretical inputs, discussions and practical exercises we will learn why especially for developing and emerging countries the knowledge and mastery of appropriate methods is an absolute "must".

We will talk about how to set project goals, how to create a project structure, how to manage projects and how to do project controlling. During the discussions and practical exercises we will also look at the situation in the home countries.

We will look at the 17 Sustainable Development Goals and ask what contribution project management can make to the Sustainable Development Goals adopted by the UN.

And we will deal with sustainability in project management itself.

The seminar takes place in cooperation with STUBE Bayern.

You are sincerely welcome!
